

YEMAYA Privacy Policy

We may collect the following Data, which includes personal Data, from you:

Name and address;

Contact Information such as email addresses and telephone numbers;

Child's Name, Child's Date Of Birth, Child's medical conditions (where you choose to provide this information).

Health Data is considered to be a special category of Data. The only time that this is collected is when a parent enrolls their child into our classes and only then if the parent feels that this is appropriate or warranted information.

The GDPR provides six bases for data collection and data processing in Europe:

The vital interest of the individual

The public interest

Contractual necessity

Compliance with legal obligations

Unambiguous consent of the individual

Legitimate interest of the data controller

Our legal basis for collecting and processing your data are:

Contractual necessity and;

Legitimate interest

YEMAYA will not pass on your personal data to third parties without first obtaining your explicit consent.

At any point while we are in possession of or processing your personal data, you, the data subject, have the following rights:

You have a number of rights under data protection legislation which, in certain circumstances, you may be able to exercise in relation to the personal information we process about you.

These include:

the right to access a copy of the personal information we hold about you;

the right to correction of inaccurate personal information we hold about you;

the right to restrict our use of your personal information;

the right to be forgotten;

the right of data portability; and the right to object to our use of your personal information;

the right to a judicial review

Where we rely on consent as the legal basis on which we process your personal information, you may also withdraw that consent at any time.

If you are seeking to exercise any of these rights, please contact us using the details in the "Contact Us" section below. Please note that we will need to verify your identity before we can fulfil any of your rights under data protection law. This helps us to protect the personal information belonging to our customer against fraudulent requests.

We utilise industry "good practice" standards to support the maintenance of a robust information security management system; and

We enforce a “need to know” policy, for access to any data or systems.
This Agreement will be governed by and interpreted according to the law of England and Wales. All disputes arising under the Agreement will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the English and Welsh courts.
YEMAYA reserves the right to change this privacy policy as we may deem necessary from time to time or as may be required by law.

YEMAYA 2022